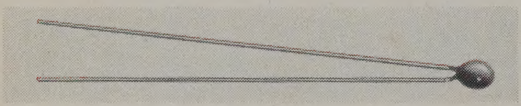
Thermistors and varistors for mil. and industrial applications

To help you evaluate which of Victory Engineering Corporation's wide range of thermistors and varistors is most suited to your particular application, shown here is a brief description of the general features of several VECO products.

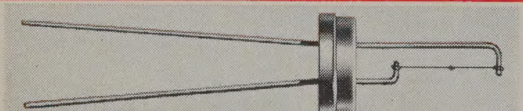
Each is solidly backed by VECO's long-held reputation as the industry leader solely devoted to the research, development, and precision manufacture of temperature and voltage sensitive solid state components.

All VECO products are manufactured to meet or exceed government and industry standards.

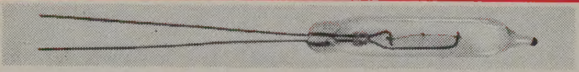


MILITARY GRADE DISK (MIL-T-23648)
Rugged, high reliability, general purpose thermistors . . . temperature range, —55°C to 125°C . . . well-suited for temperature measurement & control applications . . . particularly in transistor circuitry.

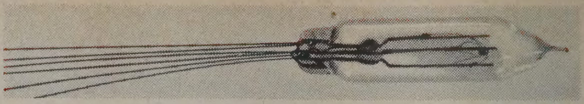
BEAD THERMISTORS
For applications involving temperature measurement and control . . . and liquid or gas flow . . . where space is minimal and medium cannot be disturbed by the sensor element . . . such as gas chromatography and thermal conductivity gas analysis. Available in diameters from .005" to .043" for different time constants. Available also with adjacent leads.



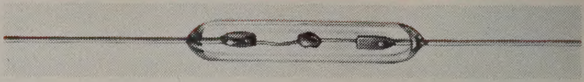
BUTT-MOUNTED THERMISTORS
For simplified application . . . where feedthrough terminals are required . . . bead thermistors are available ready-mounted . . . for gas chromatography and thermal conductivity gas analysis.



BEAD-IN-GLASS BULB
Bead-in-glass bulb thermistors . . . are most advantageous . . . in applications where power sensitivity is a primary concern. Also available in nitrogen atmospheres.



INDIRECTLY HEATED BEAD THERMISTOR
Thermistor bead with separate heater . . . for changing or controlling thermistor temperature . . . where electrical circuit resistance needs adjustment without use of moving parts.



BEAD-IN-GLASS RODS
Bead thermistors . . . with sintered-in platinum alloy leads . . . embedded in solid glass structures . . . air or gas never come in contact with thermistor bead.

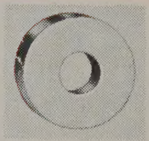
BEAD-IN-GLASS PROBES
Hermetically sealed in solid glass . . . with dumet leads . . . resist external mediums, harsh environments . . . impervious to conductive or corrosive mediums . . . unaffected by high density radiation. Available in various diameters and lengths, also moisture-proof seal.

THERMISTOR SENSOR ASSEMBLIES
Complete . . . ready-to-mount . . . for a variety of applications and mounting methods. "SS" series for surface mounting . . . heat sealing or process controls, heat sink and mold temperature measurements, other applications . . . "SF" series for use in temperature measurement and control, liquid level and gas control.

VECO LOX THERMISTORS
Thermistor beads & probes . . . developed specifically for measurement and control of fluid temperature . . . level and flow in the temperature ranges of liquid oxygen and liquid nitrogen.

THERMISTOR DISKS
Characterized by long time constant . . . high power dissipation. Used for temperature compensation of electronic components.

THERMISTOR RODS
Characterized by moderate power dissipation, long time constant, high resistance . . . for greatest application use in temperature measurement and control elements . . . or in temperature compensators and time delay devices of electronic circuits.



THERMISTOR WASHERS
Designed for mounting in bolted pile-ups . . . in any combination of series or parallel . . . for applications requiring higher power dissipation ratings.

THINSTOR® THIN FILM THERMISTORS
The latest advance in thermistor technology . . . two basic types . . . 5 micron thick films and 20 micron freestanding . . . both featuring relatively high dissipation constants, short thermal response times, extreme sensitivity . . . for application in microcircuitry, gas chromatography, infrared energy detection, medical instrumentation, many, many more.

VARISTORS
Voltage sensitive resistors . . . exhibit a symmetrical, non-linear change in electrical resistance with an applied voltage change . . . typically applied as noise suppressor in telephone circuits. Useful in volume limiting and metering protection.

Pfizer's new Ultralap® has fine abrasive oxides dispersed in a polyester binder and deposited on a tough polyester base.

Ultralap's fine abrasive particles are of such precisely uniform size that their action is radically different from conventional fine-coat abrasives.

Ultralap does a far better job, in far less time than any other abrasive you have ever used.

Ultralap, in sheets, discs or rolls, may be the answer to your production polishing and lapping problems.

Let us give you all the details about this new material. Just write:

Precision servo-accelerometers

Systron-Donner servo-accelerometers, offering accuracies from .05% to 0.5%, have flown in all major U.S. space exploration programs. Units include sensor and electronics to detect linear or angular acceleration using either pivot-and-jewel or flexure mechanisms. Ouput circuitry delivers signals representing acceleration, velocity, or "jerk." Systron-Donner builds a variety of inertial control systems in which the primary inputs are S-D accelerometers.

The Material of Unlimited Uses...

INSTANT DIP-A-MOLD

In seconds, you can make perfect molds, like this one, for potting any encapsulation, and make them economically, with low-melting CERRO® Alloys. Just dip the master in molten alloy. A thin coating of alloy clings to the pattern. Withdraw the pattern, and you have a perfect high fidelity mold. When the encapsulating plastic cures, simply remove the CERRO Alloy. Use it over and over again, almost without limit.

This particular alloy—CERROTRU®—does not shrink, slips easily from the pattern without parting or contaminating compounds or coatings. Because of its low melting point, it is safe and easy to handle.

You can reproduce such unusual details as positioning lugs for transformer-cases, as shown above, without the use of cores, inserts or secondary operations.

Instant molding is just one of the many uses for CERRO Alloys. To find out more, contact Cerro Copper & Brass Co., Cerro Alloy Dept., Stamford, Conn. 06907... R. S. Darnell (203) 327-0550.

PLAIN FOIL

Republic has three types of standard purity (99.45% aluminum) capacitor foil available for the manufacture of paper and film wound capacitors.

ELECTRO-DRY® — A foil that has negligible organic and inorganic residues on the surface. This type can be used for high reliability and standard units. Electro-Dry is a superior dry foil.

SILWYND® — A foil that has a controlled lubricated surface made by a patented process. Silwynd is used for a free unwind and where a slight lubricant is essential to winding. The slip coating is a high grade silicone which makes Silwynd particularly suited to silicone impregnated capacitors.

ELECTRO-SLIK® — A foil that has a controlled residue produced from the rolling lubricant. The slight residue facilitates unwinding.

ELECTROGAGE® — Super-thin foil .00015" and .00017" features guaranteed gage for critical capacitor requirements. Available in Electro-Dry, Silwynd, and Electro-Slik.

Widths — Republic manufactures all commercial widths from 1/16" in .00015" thru .00035" gages, from 1/8" in .0004" thru .0007" gages, and from 1/4" in .00075" thru .005" gages.

Alloys — Plain capacitor foil is available in commercial alloys 1145, 1180, 1188, 1199 and 0191 (99.45%, 99.80%, 99.88%, 99.99% and 99.93% minimum aluminum content, respectively.)

HIGH PURITY FOIL FOR ETCHING

The following high purity alloys and gages are produced in commercial quantities at Republic:

Alloy	Gage in Inches
1180	.00040 — .0050
1188	.00065 — .0050
1199	.0010 — .0050
0191	.00065 — .0050

Widths — Widths are available in some alloys from ⅛".

FOIL FOR COIL WINDING

Republic supplies both precision slit* and edge contoured* aluminum strip conductor for coil winding.

Gages - up to .040" — Widths - from 1"
Outside Diameters - up to 42" — Alloy - EC
* Depends on width and gage.

ETCHED ALUMINUM FOIL

Republic Foil produces a complete line of etched foils including high voltage, mid-range, low voltage and cathode. These foils are custom made to customer specifications and are available in several different alloys.

Gages — Etched foil is available in the following gages.

Cathode — .0011" thru .002"
Anode — .002" thru .0035"

Widths — Etched foil is available in all commercial widths from 1/8".

The consistent high quality of Republic's standard and high purity aluminum foils is maintained through the utilization of advanced test methods and meticulous inspection procedures.

Republic Foil Inc. is one of the world's leading producers of aluminum foils for the electronics industry and has the most complete line available from any one source. Experienced engineers are available to offer technical assistance and to tailor foil requirements to fill the most critical customer specifications.

INSTRUMENTATION ELECTRONICS FOR SIGNAL CONDITIONING AND DYNAMIC DATA ACQUISITION

FOR UNDERWATER ACOUSTICS, VIBRATION TESTING, ACOUSTIC TESTING, DYNAMIC STRAIN MEASUREMENT, I R DETECTION, SEISMIC MEASUREMENTS, BIO-MEDICAL MEASUREMENTS, AND EXTRACTION OF PERIODIC SIGNALS FROM HIGH LEVELS OF BACKGROUND NOISE.

PREMIUM NOISE PERFORMANCE – WIDE DYNAMIC RANGES – EXCELLENT GAIN STABILITY

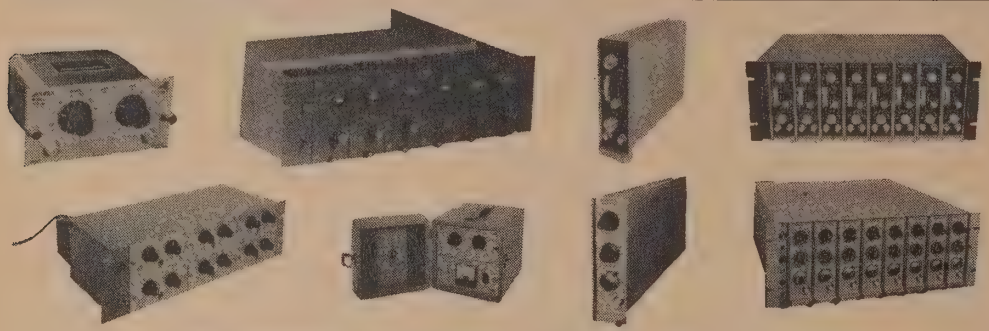
HIGH INPUT IMPEDANCE, LOW NOISE, MODULAR PREAMPLIFIERS FOR USE WITH HYDROPHONES, ACCELEROMETERS, I R DETECTORS, AND OTHER HIGH, MEDIUM AND LOW IMPEDANCE TRANSDUCERS.

Charge amplifiers are used with piezoelectric accelerometers and other capacitive transducers. Attenuation by cable capacity loading the transducer is effectively eliminated by making input capacitance very high, compared to cable capacity. Substantially all the charge generated by the transducer flows into the amplifier, and cable loading has negligible effect.

MODEL 139 CHARGE PREMPLIFIER

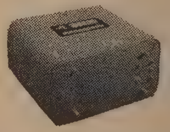
For use with piezoelectric accelerometers, this preamplifier delivers an output proportional to velocity over an extended frequency range. A locking potentiometer adjusts sensitivity over a 4:1 range. Premium noise performance and stability provided in a shielded, encapsulated, hermetically sealed module.

MODEL 145
VELOCITY PREAMPLIFIER



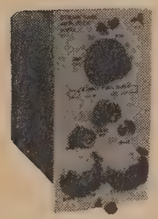
AC INSTRUMENTATION VOLTAGE AND CHARGE AMPLIFIERS

A wideband A-C amplifier with gain in decibels directly proportional to a control voltage input. Amplifier gain is controlled over a 0 to 80 db range by a D.C. control input of 0 to +5 volts. Control characteristic departs from the best straight line by only ±0.5 db max. over the entire 80 db range. Amplitude and phase of the A-C signal output are unaffected by gain.



MODEL 314
VOLTAGE
CONTROLLED
AMPLIFIER

MODEL 241
DYNAMIC STRAIN GAGE AMPLIFIER



Specifically designed for dynamic measurements, the Model 241 Amplifier eliminates many of the problems associated with static systems. Gages are excited single ended by a precise current source, and outputs conditioned by a low noise A-C amplifier with 1% gain stability. Advantages include:
No bridge balancing—no balance drift, minimum temperature effects. No inaccuracy due to resistance of wiring to gage. Gage resistance and gage factor dialed by operator on multi-turn controls. Full scale output of 1 volt for microstrain in ranges from 10 to 30,000. Greater sensitivity, stability, and lower noise than other equipment.

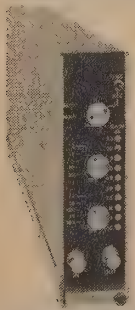
NEW! AUTO GAIN AMPLIFIER – MODEL 441



ITHACO'S new model 441 AUTO-GAIN AMPLIFIER changes gain automatically in accurate 10 db steps to condition wide-dynamic range signals to levels suitable for recording, display, or processing. The primary application is for fully automated data acquisition—without loss of data due to operator error and response time. Provision is made for electronic readout of the gain and rolloff settings of each amplifier for multiplexing and recording in automatic data acquisition systems. Also available: Remote gain switching amplifiers and preamplifiers.

Log Amplifiers and Limiters

for
- Wide dynamic range
- Exceptional accuracy

LEL log amplifiers are sequential detection type units. Most solid state models offer logging accuracy of ±1 dB. Input impedances are 50 ohms. Outputs are video.

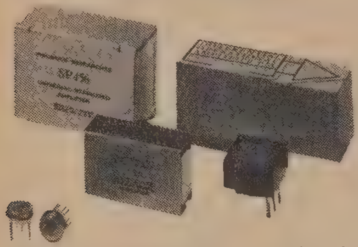
PHILBRICK/NEXUS: BEST SOURCE FOR YOUR

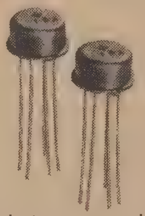
Philbrick/Nexus can fill your needs for anything analog from the industry's broadest range of analog products — ranging from simple operational amplifiers to the most sophisticated analog systems. Philbrick/Nexus' 25 years of combined experience offer you the advanced-technology of the pioneer and the vitality of a customer-oriented organization dedicated to producing the answers to any of your unsolved problems. For prompt, competent applications engineering assistance or advice, call your local Philbrick/Nexus field-engineering representative or write, Philbrick/Nexus Research, 16 Allied Drive at Route 128, Dedham, Massachusetts 02026.

DISCRETE-COMPONENT OPERATIONAL AMPLIFIERS



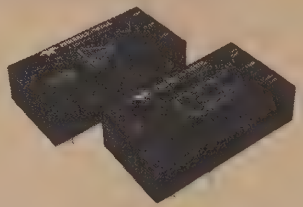
Philbrick/Nexus offers a complete line of high-gain, low-gain, low-drift amplifiers for stable feedback loops. They provide precise, predictable operations on one or more input signals.
The solid state discrete component amplifiers employ all silicon semiconductors and are available in a wide variety of economy or premium grades ranging from economical general purpose types such as PF55AU and SQ10A to the most sophisticated designs such as the high speed chopper-stabilized SP456 and the parametric P2A. They come in plug-in or wire-in models in every style of package.

IC OPERATIONAL AMPLIFIERS

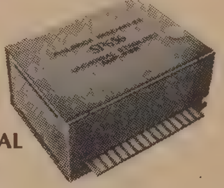


Monolithic devices offer the promise of high performance, reliability and small size at low cost. Philbrick/Nexus now offers these state of the art IC op amps.
Monolithics are available in two models. T-52's are packaged in TO-5 cans. S-52's come in dual in-line packages. The Q25AH and Q85AH are micro-hybrids which combine linear monolithic chip and discrete microminiature component technologies to offer immunity to overloads, shorts and supply voltage stresses. They are available in TO-8 size cans.

DC POWER SUPPLIES, REGULATORS AND BOOSTER AMPLIFIERS



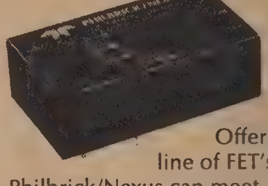
Compound-regulated, stable, noise-free power supplies designed to meet the needs of high-performance, low-level analog systems. The Philbrick/Nexus 2001 current booster with 500 ma power is the only one of its kind in the industry. The 2101 is an encapsulated 100 ma dual voltage regulator that is completely short-circuit protected. Rack, cabinet, modular, plug-in or built-in models available.
NPS 300 is a dual voltage power supply for powering analog circuits.



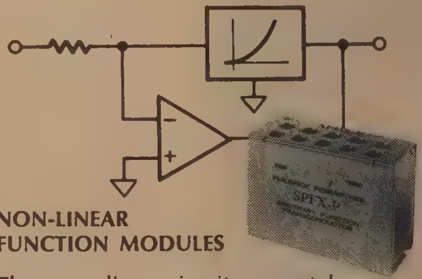
LOW-ERROR OPERATIONAL AMPLIFIERS

Ideal where drift and offset must be held over long operating periods through wide ambient temperature fluctuations. Philbrick/Nexus offers 19 stock models — offset-stabilized, mechanical chopper, parametrically modulated RD carrier, temperature-compensated, FET front-end. With a range so wide, there's a "low-error" model for virtually every design situation. The SP2B is an outstanding example offering unusually high input impedance and low input current. The SP456 offers high-speed chopper stabilization.

FET OPERATIONAL AMPLIFIERS



Offering the broadest line of FET's in the industry, Philbrick/Nexus can meet — and exceed — nearly every needed specification. Whether its lowest noise, lowest offset voltages, lowest input current, or highest CMRR .... you'll find your needs here. QFT-2B's, for example, offer the lowest offset voltage — 5uv/°c max. 1003's exhibit the highest CMRR you'll find anywhere — 1,000,000:1. The industry's lowest priced FET operational amplifier is the QFT-5, selling at $15 in lots of 100.

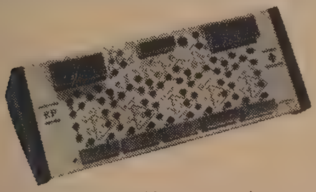


NON-LINEAR FUNCTION MODULES

These non-linear circuits accurately implement such operations as multi-quadrant squaring, generating sine and cosine functions, quadratic or logarithmic response and the linearization of a multitude of non-linear transducers. They fall into two general classes: (1) natural continuous function types, based on the continuous-function characteristics inherent in certain semiconductors operated in specific parametric regions, and (2) precise-linear-approximation types, using diode-resistor networks proportioned to approximate the desired function by a series of straight lines. Scaled and biased for use in conjunction with ± 10-volt operational amplifiers, they constitute a convenient and effective means for generation of exponential, transcendental, and high-order mathematical functions. Except for Type (P) PL3, all units are manufactured in two forms — "P" and "N" — one for each polarity of input signal.

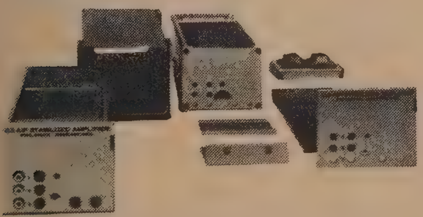
ANALOG NEEDS

MODEL RP OPERATIONAL MANIFOLDS

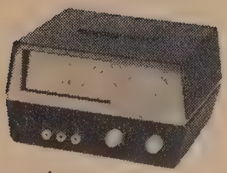


These 5-amplifier self-powered units are self-contained analog instruments for research, development, industrial control, simulation and teaching that virtually eliminate wiring problems. They are real whizzes as lab assistants. They are also excellent for breadboarding. Complex problems can be breadboarded in a fraction of the time required by conventional methods. They combine high reliability, small size, low drift and noise, light weight and low power-requirements. A variety of amplifier combinations meet specific requirements.

Q3 MODULAR SYSTEMS

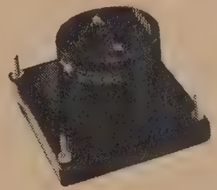


These are modular components for use in both analog and hybrid computors, simulators and analyzers. Each package consists of a carefully optimized combination of amplifiers, networks, components, and power supplies. Representative units include a self-powered, chopper-stabilized amplifier; self-powered low noise, low current-offset, differential amplifier; switch-programable, self-powered integrator-differentiator; switch-programable, self-powered unit capable of performing non-linear functions.



New
METERED INSTRUMENTS

Among the many metered instruments in the Philbrick/Nexus line are the 5101 log null meter and the 5100 log ratio meter. The 5101 will permit nulling to 10 uv with a sensitive and stable null. The 5100 provides a four-decade display of voltage, current, voltage ratio and current ratio of resistance.



New
METERMATES

Series 4100 Metermates are packaged signal conditioning units that adapt standard panel meters to making certain types of non-linear measurements and/or to extend sensitivity. They convert standard meters into very high impedance instruments. They bolt to meter studs and mount flush at the rear. Metermates are available in a variety of configurations: single-ended D.C. amplifier, log scale D.C., high linearity A.C., log ratio-meter D.C. and point-to-point logarithmic A.C.

TECHNICAL SUPPORT SERVICES

Philbrick/Nexus Research welcomes opportunities to bid on special systems requirements and help you apply analog techniques and products in such areas as industrial and scientific instrumentation, process and quality control systems and in-line analog data processing. Customer services of Philbrick/Nexus include: applications engineering, technical bulletins, applications manuals, the "Lightning Empiricist", and factory or on-site applications seminars.

DUAL OP-AMP POWER SUPPLY

Model 901 connects directly to the 115VAC line, delivers ±15VDC @ 40mA (each output). Combined regulation spec of ±0.2% with ripple and noise <2mV rms is better than needed for most modern op-amps. The package size is just 3.5 X 2.5 X 0.88 in., but most surprising is the low cost . . . just $49/unit, $39 in lots of 10 pieces.

NEED MORE CURRENT?

The new Model 902 ("big brother" to the 901) is now available for applications which require higher output current. ±100mA (each output) means that you can power several op-amps . . . often an entire system or instrument . . . from one compact (3.5 X 2.5 X 1.25 in.) supply. Like the 901, the 902 is an epoxy cast module for easy P.C. installation. Cost is only $69(1-9), $59(10-24).

4 QUADRANT WIDEBAND MULTIPLIER

The Model 420 is an all solid state, four quadrant, wideband multiplier. Key features are fast response (250kHz), small size (1.5 X 1.5 X 0.62 in.), and very low cost $165 (1-9). Multiplication and squaring are achieved by the 420 directly, division and square-rooting use an auxiliary op-amp. Linearity is 0.25% for 5V output, 1% for 10V output.

FET COMPARATOR MODULE

Differential FET inputs of the Model 350 means that voltage levels from high source impedances can be accurately compared. Full 10V common mode range allows differential comparisons to be made without fear of latch-up or burn-out. Clamped logic level outputs (0,5V) are compatible with all modern logic and 20mA output permits fan-out to many gates and external devices. Delay time is 5μsec, cost is $35 (1-9).

LOGARITHM MODULE

A new log module, Model 751, is another analog function module. These devices, used in conjunction with operational amplifiers, have wide application where logarithmic, exponential (e.g., quadratic) or ratio functions must be instrumented. Cost is $38(1-9), $20(100 pieces).

LOW COST DATA AMPLIFIER

A low cost, modular instrumentation amplifier is now available from Analog Devices. Model 602 offers fixed gains of 10 or 100, common mode rejection of 100dB and 10V output. Most significant is the small size and low cost; the module measures just 1.5 X 1.5 X 0.62 in., and costs from $75 (1-9).

LOW COST CHOPPER STABILIZED

One of the most significant new developments of 1968, the Model 230 is chopper stabilized, yet is but a fraction of the size and cost of previous units. Just $67 in 100 piece quantities, means the OEM designer need not "design around" the high drift of low cost differentials. Voltage drift is 0.1μV/°C, current drift of 0.5pA/°C, size is 1.5 X 1.5 X 0.62 in., unit cost $89 (230J).

ELECTROMETER AMPLIFIER

Now available, an inexpensive, solid state alternative to electrometer tubes and MOSFET devices. The Model 310, with varactor bridge input features bias current of <10^{-14}A max. (10 femto amps); and input Z of $3 \times 10^{11}\Omega$. Applications include many types of scientific instrumentation where infinitesimal currents must be measured. 30μV/°C voltage drift. $50 (100 pieces).

FET MICROCIRCUIT OP-AMP

Completely self-contained in a package only 0.6 X 0.6 X 0.25 in., the new Model 501 requires no external compensation. Three models are available: lowest cost Model 501A (2mV offset voltage; 75μV/°C; 25pA offset current; 2.5pA/°C), a higher performance 501B (1mV; 25μV/°C; 10pA; 1pA/°C). The unit costs are $30 and $35 respectively. A third Model, 501C offers 5pA offset at $50. This series is designed to combine the small size/low cost of I.C. op-amps and the high performance of discrete types.

10

NOW AN I.C. OP-AMP WITH 4nA I_{BIAS}

Analog Devices enters the integrated circuit field with the new Model 801. Initial bias current of <4nA max. (0.15nA/°C), difference current of 0.15nA (0.05nA/°C), is two orders-of-magnitude better than 709 types. At last I.C. types can be used in high impedance circuits. All other specs (except gain) meet or exceed those of the 709 types. In fact, the 801 is directly interchangeable including compensation values with the 709. Three models are available, full mil spec version is $16 (100 pieces).

Model BOP 36–5M   Price: $585.00

- low distortion: unmeasurable at crossover
- high power: +36 to −36 volts
  +5 to −5 amps
- high gain: more than 88 db open loop
- low offset drift: less than 50 microvolts per °C.
- fast slewing: 4 volts per microsecond
- wide bandwidth: d-c −20 kHz
- low ripple: 80 db below peak output
- op-amp accessibility: a 10-pin patch panel

Kepco's Model BOP 36–5M offers a whole new dimension in power regulation . . . Bipolarity. The output can be continuously and linearly varied from +36V to −36V through zero without switching; delivers a full 5 amperes in either direction and can sink 1 ampere.

Suitable for many interesting tasks, the bi-directional output can be oscillator-driven and transformer-coupled as a variable frequency a-c power supply — for instrument testing, shake-table drive or lab simulation. Its d-c −20 kHz response will pass a square wave 72V peak-to-peak with less than 20 microsecond rise/fall time and a perfectly flat top no matter how long extended. Add a mike and speaker (a big speaker) and you've got a dandy PA amplifier. Bring some feedback from a d-c motor and you can make a position servo or drive a torque motor, or x-y deflection coils. The patch panel makes it easy to sum two signals — or sum with a selectable d-c bias. The BOP even has a built-in 40K ohm vernier feedback (gain) control and output bounding circuits.

MAKE OR BUY?

CONSIDER THESE BLACK BOX ANSWERS FIRST

Your design and scheduling problems are simplified when you specify Intronics compatible function modules. Proven specifications, stock delivery, and firm prices help you meet your cost and delivery schedules.

Intronics modules feature MIL quality construction and advanced solid state circuit design. Operation from ±15 Volt supply is standard with ±12 Volt optional. Modules are designed for compatible operation minimizing interface problems. No customer furnished feedback networks, pots or other adjustments are normally required. All units have short-circuit proof outputs. Standard units operate over a temperature range of −25°C to +85°C with −55°C to 125°C operation available in most models.

MULTIPLICATION/DIVISION SQUARING/SQUARE ROOTING

All models feature four quadrant operation, linear operation through zero volts, and ±10 volts AC or DC inputs and outputs (Eout = $\frac{XY}{10}$). All types except Model M401 function in multiply, divide, square, or square root mode by appropriate pin interconnection. Model M401 requires external potentiometers to adjust gain and offset, and is available as Model D401 for division applications.

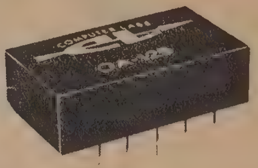
Model numbers can't tell everything.



There IS a limit to what a model number tells you. On our OA-125, for example, the OA tells you it's an op amp. The 125 tells you its useful gain bandwith product is 125 MHz. The model number doesn't tell you it also has:

OUTPUT VOLTAGE RANGE:
±2.0 volts into 100 ohms (±15 volt supply)
±1.5 volts into 100 ohms (±12 volt supply)
VOLTAGE GAIN (DC open loop): 100,000 with 100-ohm load
SLEW RATE: 250 volts/u sec
INPUT VOLTAGE OFFSET: 3 mv max.
INPUT CURRENT OFFSET: 100 na max.
INPUT IMPEDANCE (DC): 50,000 ohms min.
INPUT-OUTPUT STRUCTURE: Single-ended
SMALL QUANTITY PRICE: $135

The model number can't tell you all that. But an ad can. Didn't it?

NORTHERN SCIENTIFIC PULSE-HEIGHT ANALYZERS

NS-610 Series features digital stabilization circuitry (optional) to keep overall system gain and zero level within precise limits. There is no system drift. Circuitry built-in for wide range of optional input and output equipment; 5″ CRT display standard. A factor-of-two conversion gain included on all models for more resolution in selected waveform section. Unit available with 512, 1024, 2048 and 4096 channels. 16 MHz converter and 4 MHz multi-channel scaling. Silicon semiconductors insure reliability. 0-100 millivolts (negative) low level input; 0-10 volts and 0-100 volts positive or bipolar) hi-level input; 20,000 ohms impedance. Integral linearity: better than ±0.25% over top 98% of channels. Differential linearity: ±2% over same range. Readouts include linear analog with 3-digit decoding, 0.5 volt XY plotter, CRT display, and various digital devices including typewriter, Teletype page printer, Teletype BRPE and Tally hi-speed punch, Teletype and Tally lo-speed punch.

NS-601 less expensive analyzer is nevertheless a complete system and ideal for signal amplitude distribution analysis, Mossbauer studies, and various multichannel scaling experiments in lab and classroom. Other pulse height analyzers available for specific applications.

ALLISON SPECTRUM ANALYZERS

NEW AL-8100 SERIES The Model 844 Data Scanner is a solid state multiplexer and monitor display unit designed for use with the 814 Series Spectrum Analyzer or other multiple-output systems.

The unit sequentially scans up to 80 data channels and presents a linear or logarithmic DC voltage for external recording or processing. A built-in monitor oscilloscope simultaneously displays output levels of the sampled channels. A digital channel selector switch identifies, by CRT intensification, individual data channels displayed on the monitor oscilloscope.

Outputs are provided for X-Y or strip chart recorder, A/D converter, and external oscilloscope display.

The Model 814 Spectrum Analyzer contains all of the basic elements for spectral analysis of a complex waveform. The frequency spectrum may be divided into 1-, 1/2-, 1/3-, 1/6-, or 1/12- octave contiguous or separated segments. All channels operate in parallel for simultaneous and continuous analysis. Any number of these modules can be combined to accurately define power spectral density to various degrees of resolution, in real time, over the entire 1 Hz to 100kHz frequency range.

814 Spectrum Analyzers may be combined with the Model 844 Data Scanner/Monitor Display unit for sequential sampling, display, and recording of each channel.

2% (1/30- octave) filter sets are available on special order.

Struthers ELECTRONICS

Struthers: Prime source for systems and subsystems

The new advances in microwave technology have made integrated microwave subsystems completely feasible. In fact, today's complex microwave components, no longer considered laboratory curiosities, make the integrated microwave system a "must" for sophisticated electronic systems.

Today, every program is QRC, and both schedules and Pert control techniques are employed in order to adapt to the volatile electronics industry.

Struthers Electronics corporation has the capability to answer the latest demands, as well as the required engineering and manufacturing techniques. And the Douglas division of Struthers Electronics, using microwave module concepts, has developed integrated microwave systems and subsystems. Now, we have the organization to provide you with both microwave modules and systems. Please send us your requirements.

The FASKONEX Electronic Circuit Connecting System

FASKONEX provides reliable, solderless, electrical connections. Designed for fast, stable, compact connections, the FASKONEX system is presented in a kit containing circuit panels, tie plates, binding posts, mounting bracket, insertion tool, and associated hardware necessary for circuit building. Advantages of the system include low contract resistance and wide frequency range. Pressure contacts eliminate soldered joints and make interconnection of circuit elements fast and easy. The simplicity of component changing with the FASKONEX system is an attractive feature for educational, research and development applications.

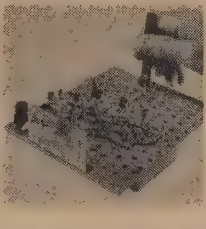

Fig. 1. Kit ECP-K1 showing mounting of typical components and use of pin insertion tool.

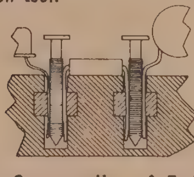

Fig. 2. Cross section of Faskonex junction.

The Principal advantages of the FASKONEX system are:

- Fast assembly of circuit is facilitated.
- Low contact resistance is obtained both initially and over a long period of time.
- Repeated re-use of components is facilitated.
- Wide Frequency range is accommodated by the FASKONEX system; recommended for circuits over the range from zero to ten million hertz including d-c amplifier applications.

THIS SYSTEM IS IN USE AT THESE INSTITUTIONS.

GRAPHALLOY

SILVER GRAPHALLOY BRUSHES and BRUSH & SLIP-RING ASSEMBLIES . . .

GRAPHALLOY BRUSHES

are used on such equipment as . . . SERVO SYSTEMS • SYNCHROS • CHOPPERS • RADAR • GYROS • INVERTERS • THERMOCOUPLE and STRAIN GAGE CIRCUITS • GUIDED MISSILES • PULSE SYSTEMS • DIGITAL COMPUTERS • WAVE GUIDES • SONAR • TRANSDUCERS • TORQUE INDICATORS

Silver GRAPHALLOY Brushes have been widely used because of LOW and CONSTANT CONTACT DROP, EXTREMELY LOW ELECTRICAL NOISE and LONG LIFE. Over 200 grades are now serving in a wide variety of applications. Silver GRAPHALLOY Brushes on ½"-diameter coin silver slip rings have operated successfully in highly critical electrical circuits at speeds up to 100,000 R.P.M. Our Engineering Department will assist in determining the exact grade of GRAPHALLOY for your needs. Ask for our Brush Inquiry Form 109.

CONTACTS

GRAPHALLOY, because of its inherent non-welding and arc-quenching characteristics, is used widely for contacts. Ask for Data Sheet 950.

BUSHINGS, Oil-free

Replace oil-lubricated bushings in synchros, instruments, timers and missiles.

Advantages: 1) Lower friction at room temperatures. 2) No oil to solidify at low temperatures. 3) No oil to carbonize at prolonged elevated temperatures.

*Ask for Data Sheets 270 and 277 on Miniature Bronze-*GRAPHALLOY Bushings.

CONNECTORS (garter springs)

These silver-plated coil spring Connectors make for positive electrical connection to the brass body of the brush holder by snapping into the groove on the holder. The connecting lead can be pre-soldered to the Connector.

CLUTCH FACINGS and CLUTCH GEAR ASSEMBLIES

Torque remains same within close operating limits despite changes in temperature and humidity. For instrumentation, guided missiles, constant friction devices.

SLIP RINGS
Solid Coin Silver

Standard Coin Silver Slip Rings, both cylindrical and flat types, are illustrated at right. We recommend the cylindrical type rings with three brushes per ring . . . spaced at 120°. The cylindrical type are designed for press fitting over standard steel shafting. The flat type rings are designed for nesting either on an insulated plate or for molding into insulation. Insulated slip rings of either type or slip-ring assemblies can be furnished with leads attached.

No. 168 Series flat type to 20" O.D.

Standard "Flat" rings have ¼" radial contact surface and ⅛" radial spacing between adjacent rings.

No. 116 Series cylindrical type to 36" O.D.

Copper Slip Rings, flat or cylindrical, are available.

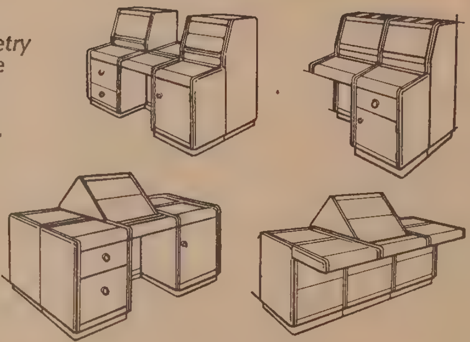
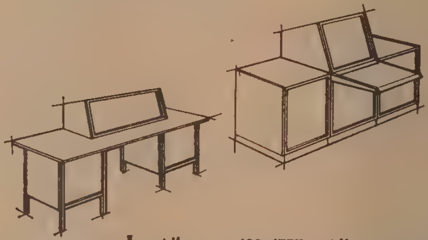
EMCOR I Series.

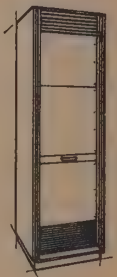
A complete line of cabinetry with the versatility of the modular system and the strength of prime steel construction throughout.



EMCOR II Series.

Most advanced modular enclosure system available. You can create a "custom look" with various components and designs of your own choosing.





EMCOR® MODULAR ENCLOSURE SYSTEMS

attractive cabinetry for electronic, instrumentation and electro-mechanical applications

EMCOR originated the time-saving, money-saving idea of the modular enclosure system. Now, EMCOR contemporary designs, plus superior craftsmanship, have made EMCOR cabinetry an art. Convenient, flexible, solidly built cabinets provide maximum protection for your precision instruments. Here are handsome designs for instrument housings, consoles, integrated equipment banks, and simple or elaborate control centers.

There are two distinct lines, each with thousands of modular cabinets...and a wide choice of quietly rich colors. Both EMCOR lines come in nearly unlimited sizes and configurations, yet they are simple to assemble, and remain strong and dependable for many, many years. EMCOR also has a full line of chassis slides to complement your system.

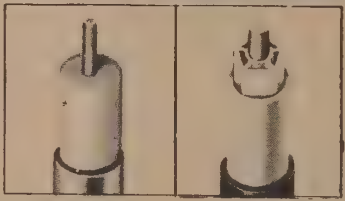
Seamless metal tube sheathed coaxial cable



ALUMIFOAM® ALUMISPLINE®

What ordinary flexible coaxial cable won't do . . . Times semiflexible will! Here are 7 reasons why: More isolation—at least 80 db more than ordinary coaxial cable. Uniformly average—VSWR 1.1 or less. Stability—10 times better. Lower loss—30% less. Pulse reflection—less than 1%. Less distortion.

Available in three standard versions:

ALUMIFOAM®—Foam polyethylene dielectric where pressurizing isn't practical.

ALUMISPINE®—Air dielectric where pressurizing is practical. Superior because the dielectric is uniformly extruded directly on the center conductor, guaranteeing lowest attenuation, VSWR, and good nanosecond pulse response.

ALUMISOL®—Solid dielectric
All semiflexibles are available for high temperature applications.

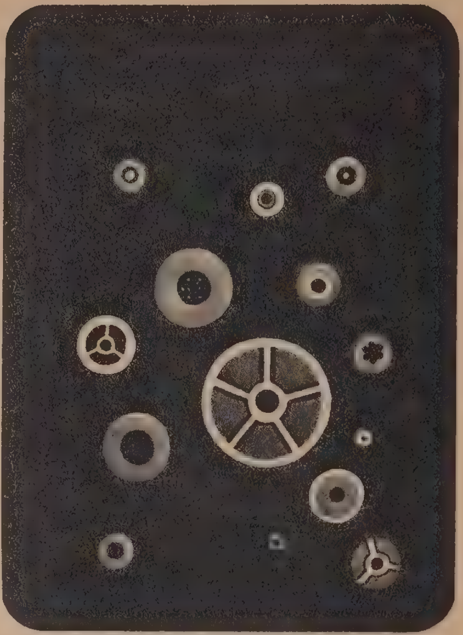
Semi-Rigid COAXITUBE Coaxial Cable

COAXITUBE is Precision Tube Company's version of semi-rigid coaxial cables employing solid TFE Teflon* dielectric and an outer conductor from seamless copper (CU) or aluminum (AL) tubing.

Compared to cables employing braided outer conductors, COAXITUBE offers greater shielding effectiveness, thereby reducing attenuation and increasing the power rating. In addition, COAXITUBE construction minimizes variations in the characteristic impedance profile, thus significantly reducing VSWR.

The COAXITUBE types shown below are those currently in most common demand. All have a nominal characteristic impedance of 50 ohms, a nominal capacitance of 29.3 pf/ft, and nominal propagation velocity of 69.5%. Individual properties are listed in the table.



Other available constructions:

Cables having outer diameters from .020 to .500 inches; employing conductor and dielectric materials other than those shown in this bulletin; having characteristic impedance ranging from 4 to 125 ohms; designed to survive under extreme vibration; designed to withstand exposure to temperatures in excess of those shown in the table below.

Outer conductor finishes; (gold, silver, cadmium, tin, plastic tubing available).

Special constructions, such as lossy or minimum-loss cables.

Finished and semi-finished coaxial cable components such as delay lines, dummy loads, and preformed and terminated assemblies to your drawings, including environmental testing.

Amperex Capacitors

ELECTROLYTIC CAPACITORS

Amperex high quality, low cost electrolytic capacitors feature small size, high capacitance and long service life. Low leakage currents are achieved through the use of highly purified materials and carefully controlled manufacturing processes. They are the "dry" type with the liquid electrolyte absorbed into a layer of paper between cathode and anode foils. Winding is sealed in an aluminum can.

They are designed to operate at varied efficiencies over a temperature range of −40°C to +85°C. The min. and max. temp. depends on the application; increase of impedance and losses are the limiting factors.

FILM CAPACITORS

Fixed Film Dielectric Capacitors

METALLIZED POLYCARBONATE

Metallized polycarbonate capacitors offer 125°C operation with no voltage de-rating, extreme capacitance stability with temperature, and low dissipation factor. High insulation resistance coupled with small physical size make these capacitors ideally suited for the most critical applications.

C280M Series

C281 Series

100VDC from .047 mfd to 6.8 mfd
400VDC from .01 mfd to 1.0 mfd
630VDC from .01 mfd to .47 mfd

METALLIZED POLYESTER

Available in 250VDC rating from .001 mfd to 2.2 mfd. Offer small size and cost advantages and are suitable for all general purpose applications.

C280AE Series

(Also available in C280M and C281 packaging configuration)

Variable Capacitors

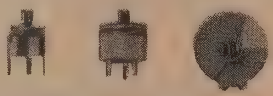
CERAMIC DIELECTRIC

For high freq. temp.-compensating applications requiring low Zero capacitance. Feature high breakdown voltage, stability and accuracy of adjustment.

C004 Series
(typical configurations)

FILM DIELECTRIC

The CO10 is a general trimmer used when large Delta 'C' variations are required and space is limited. Adjustable top and bottom, available in following min.-max. ranges: 2pf-10pf, 5pf-20pf, 5pf-60pf.



C010/HT10 Series

HT10 TEFLON® SERIES

For applications requiring guaranteed Delta 'C' and where capacitance-variation is unaffected by temp. of 125° and higher. Same ranges as CO10 (above).

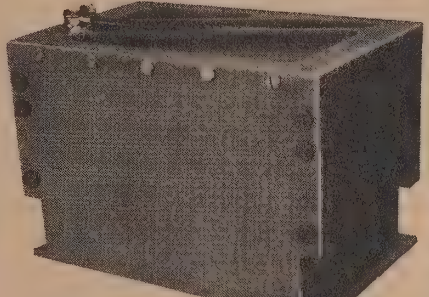
We design high energy density capacitors to fit.



A typical AMPLIFILM* capacitor assembly. Even un-encapsulated, the exclusive dielectric construction provides moisture resistance meeting MIL-STD-202 (Method 106), making possible an energy efficiency greater than 0.6 joules per cubic inch without the encumbrance of a metal case.

- Capacitance: 0.1 μf ±5%
- Voltage rating: 40,000 volts DC
- Power factor: 0.5% max.
- Temperature Range: −55°C to +100°C
- Size: 4½" x 4½" x 6½" max.
- Weight: 9½ lbs.

We can supply units rated from 4,000 to 60,000 Volts DC with capacitances from 100 pf to 1.0 μf and higher. Ask us to build you a high-energy-density capacitor that makes the best use of your available space. Call or write, today.

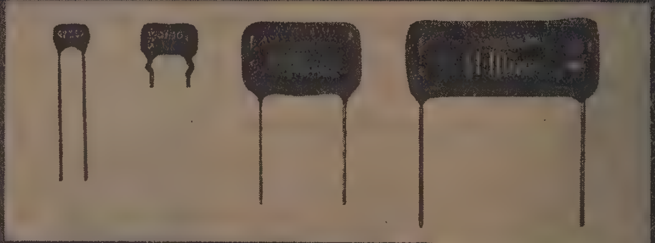
El-Menco

The Capacitors You Find Wherever There's Electronics!

EL-MENCO DUR-MICA CAPACITORS



Only 1 Failure Per 43,000,000 Unit-Hours!

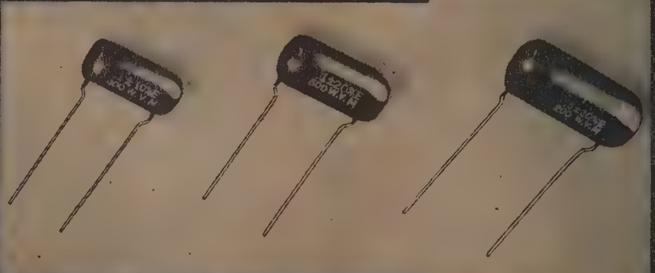
- It has been computed that "debugged" DM30, 10,000 MMF units, when subjected to 257,000 hours of life at 85°C with 100% of the rated DC voltage applied, will yield only 1 FAILURE PER 43,000,000 UNIT-HOURS!
- DM15, DM16, DM19, DM20 . . . perfect for miniaturization and for new designs using printed wiring circuits. Also available in DM30, DM42 and DM43.
- New "hairpin" parallel leads insure easy application.
- Exceed all electrical requirements of military specification MIL-C-5A.

EL-MENCO TRIMMERS & PADDERS

Design Versatility!

- Available in 350 VDC and 500 VDC as well as other test voltages.
- All bases are of low-loss steatite.
- Special lugs are obtainable for printed circuitry.
- Miniature units are available.
- Solder Lugs can be bent in any position without affecting the capacity setting due to the rigid construction.
- Various types of mounting brackets are available for all trimmers.
- Units can be constructed for special applications.

EL-MENCO *MYLAR-PAPER DIPPED CAPACITORS

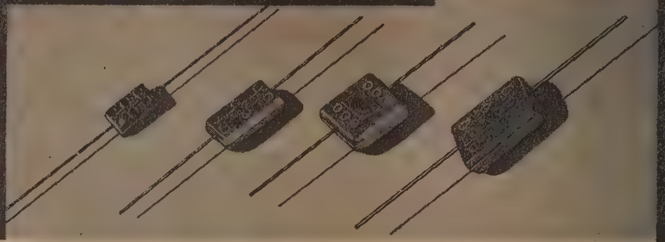


Only 1 Failure in 14,336,000 Unit-Hours!

- Life tests at 105°C with rated voltage applied have yielded only 1 FAILURE PER 1,433,600 UNIT-HOURS for 1 MFD. Since the number of unit-hours for these capacitors is inversely proportional to the capacitance, 0.1 MFD Mylar-Paper Dipped capacitors will yield only 1 FAILURE PER 14,336,000 UNIT-HOURS!
- Working volts DC: 200, 400, 600, 1000 and 1600.
- Durez phenolic resin impregnated.
- Tolerances: ± 10% and ± 20% (closer tolerances available).
- Dielectric strength: 2 or 2½ times rated voltage, depending upon working voltage.
- Exceed all electrical requirements of E.I.A. specification RS-164 and military specifications MIL-C-91A and MIL-C-25A.

*Registered Trademark of DuPont Co.

EL-MENCO MOLDED MICA CAPACITORS



Superior Performance!

- Unmatched for excellent stability, dielectric strength, high insulation resistance, extremely high "Q" and correspondingly low power factor.
- Units can be subjected to a short 'debugging" life test at elevated voltage and temperature for removal of early life failures and for improved reliability.

PHOTOVOLTAIC CELLS

Photovoltaic cells start with a layer of selenium onto which a junction of CdSe is formed. A subsequent layer of CdO or Au acts as a current collector. The two types are specified as A for the Au layer and B for the CdO type. B is high output for low light and best for amplifier use. Specify A or B after part number, e.g. S100 EB.

PROPERTY CHART OF ALSIMAG® TECHNICAL CERAMICS

FREE ON REQUEST!

This chart gives data which is valuable to any design engineer . . . in electronic, electrical, chemical and mechanical fields. American Lava Corporation offers you the widest choice in technical ceramic materials and processes available from any single source. American Lava has been a custom manufacturer of technical ceramics for more than 65 years and has always stressed engineering, research and close control of quality.

AlSiMag ceramics are unexcelled in electronic and electrical applications because of their superior dielectric properties, especially at high frequencies and elevated temperatures. They are suited to many mechanical and chemical applications. In addition to the many ceramic compositions shown in this new Property Chart, there are a number of other compositions of a more specialized nature that are suggested on an individual basis when the more commonly used compositions do not match the specific requirements of a critical application.

The new Property Chart No. 671 contains factual and comprehensive mechanical and electrical characteristics of the most frequently used AlSiMag ceramic compositions. If your work includes design, production or purchasing of precision technical ceramics, you will find this chart a valuable working tool.

ENVIRONMENTAL CHAMBERS THAT WORK!

FULL RANGE CONSTANT TEMPERATURE/HUMIDITY CABINETS

Easily meet every current MIL humidity spec . . . plus a host of even tougher industrial requirements. Automatically perform MIL-202C, Method 106B, Steps 1-7, including Step 7-A (—10°C.) without changing cams. Patented wet and dry bulb POWER-O-MATIC 60® Saturable Reactor Controls provide ±½%°C. performance from —10°C. to +93°C. and ±½% relative humidity throughout 20% to 98% range. Quality features include cam-type programming, separate monitoring recorder, non-cycling mechanical refrigeration, and elapsed time meter.

HUMIDAIRE AIR-COOLED TEMPERATURE/HUMIDITY CABINETS

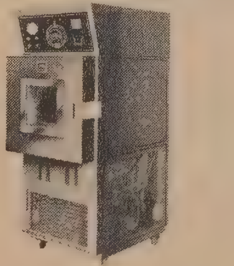
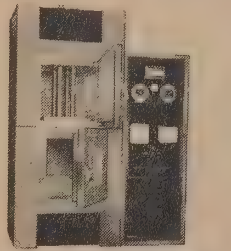
The most accurate, reliable and economical chamber ever developed for long-term high temperature humidity testing. Ideal for such steady state requirements as MIL-202C, Method 103B, Condition D—continuous operation for 56 days. Unique design uses air, not costly conditioned water. Saves thousands of gallons a year, minimizes operating costs. POWER-O-MATIC 60 Control automatically regulates temperature from +12°C. above ambient to +93°C. (±½°C.) . . . R.H. from 40% to 98% (±½%).

VERSA-RANGE REFRIGERATED TEST CHAMBERS



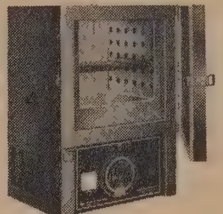
Ranges: —73°C. to +204°C., —40°C. to +93°C., —73°C. to +93°C. and ambient to —85°C. or —40°C. with cascade or single stage mechanical refrigeration. Front and top opening models. Sizes to 64 cu. ft. Above ambient units feature POWER-O-MATIC 60 Control. Also front opening and chest type CO2/LN2 chambers with —73°C. to +204°C., —73°C. to +204°C., —73°C. to +300°C. and —185°C. to +200°C. ranges.

THERMAL SHOCK TEST CHAMBERS



For MIL-202C. Dual Shock Cabinets meet Method 107B, Conditions A, B, C and F. Move 2.3 cu. ft. work chamber vertically from cold chamber to heat chamber per spec. —73°C. to +204°C. range. CO2 or LN2 for cooling, POWER-O-MATIC 60 for heating. Also 3-stage Thermal Cycling Chambers for Method 102A, Preferred Conditions C and D.

LIFE-TEST OVENS



The basic building block for any life-test capability . . . assure any test (regardless how long) will be completed successfully. POWER-O-MATIC 60 Control for unmatched performance throughout +204°C. range. Two sizes: 1.0 and 2.8 cu. ft. U.L. listed.

SAFEGUARD
Electrical and Electronic Equipment
with CALFONEX® "Chemical Tools"

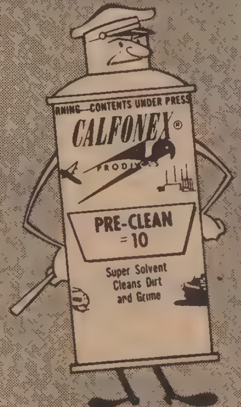
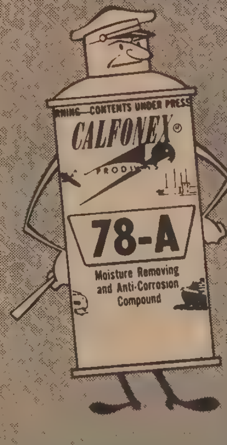
AG-51

This highly concentrated liquid is most effective for preventive maintenance of light electrical and electronic equipment and precision instruments. Improves electrical contacts, mechanically lubricates, prevents contact burn and corrosion and reduces contact resistance. Protects the conductivity of commutators and contacts. Restores equipment inoperative due to moisture, dust, dirt or corrosive oxidation. Cleans, seals surfaces with a molecular film that preserves equipment, reduces repair and maintenance costs. Dry lubrication reduces layers of tarnish, increases life of contact surfaces.



Pre-Clean #10

This is an unexcelled "wipe-down" cleaner for metal parts, motors, engines, machinery. Does not require water rinse. A powerful solvent, it removes grease, oil, tar, wax, resins or adhesives by wiping, dipping, spraying or slushing; penetrates deeply and quickly; dries rapidly and cleanly. Does not affect soft reactive metals. Easy-to-use, non-staining, non-corrosive, non-hazardous, non-flammable.



78-A

Multi-purpose liquid ideal for preventive maintenance of heavy electrical gear. Dislodges water and moisture, penetrates, seals, lubricates all surfaces; protects against corrosion and rust. Especially recommended for control panels, switches, relays, solenoids, rectifiers, transformers, coils, motors. Frees parts bound by corrosion, loosens dirt and scale from painted and plated surfaces. Will not harm metals, rubber, lacquers, enamels, ceramics or most plastics. Non-combustible, has no flash point, high dielectric strength, low evaporation, non hazardous.

Available in 16 oz. aerosol spray cans (12 per carton); 1 gal. cans, 5 gal. pails and 55 gal. drums.

VIBRATING CAPACITORS

A vibrating-reed type capacitance modulator used to measure currents as low as 10^{-16} amperes. Drift never exceeds ±0.2 millivolts per day, noncumulative. Thus it is ideal where stable performance without recalibration is required for periods of a month or more.

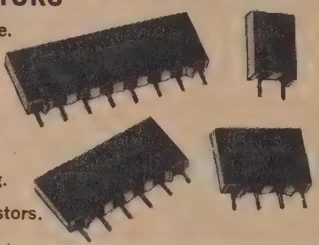
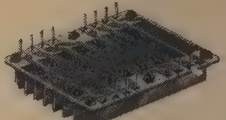
CTS SERIES 750 INDESTRUCTIBLE CERMET SEMI-PRECISION RESISTORS



Cermet film screened on thick alumina substrate.
For circuit engineers using resistor networks.
Extreme stability and reliability.
High power capability: up to 1 watt per resistor.
Space saving — a single module replaces up to 7 discrete resistors.
Available in an infinite number of circuit combinations.
Custom-built to your exact requirement.
Ideally suited for cost-saving automatic handling.
Cover coating unaffected by solvents.
Priced to compete with discrete metal film resistors.

CTS SERIES 770 HIGH-POWER PRECISION CERMET RESISTOR MODULES



For power applications.
Proven in 3rd generation computers.

Compact modular packaging — overall dimensions are only 1.500" by 1.225" by 0.370" with heat sink.

High power — 8 to 10 watts per module depending upon allowable operating temperature, air flow, duty cycle and number of pins used.

Low inductance — less than 10 nanohenries up to 200 megacycles.

Layout flexibility — up to 24 external pins on .125" centers can accommodate 12 or more cermet resistors.

YOUR SOURCE FOR ALL TYPES OF CHEMICALLY ETCHED CIRCUITRY . . .

- EXPANDED FACILITIES
- COMPLETE SERVICE
- SPECIALIZED TO MEET YOUR REQUIREMENTS

Ansley has for many years been a major supplier to leading manufacturers of Military and Industrial Electronic Equipment requiring Mil Spec compliance, UL listing or individual specs. A new production plant with the latest and most modern equipment enables us to handle larger orders and serve new customers. Rigid quality control and constant inspection assure adherence to Military or Customer Specifications.

Ansley services include all phases of the design and manufacture of Printed Circuits. From layout and design through printing, by direct photographic or screen process, plating, fabrication, assembly and encapsulation.

PRINTED CIRCUITS

The entire field of printed circuitry for military and industrial (to required Mil Specs or UL) use is available from Ansley.

- ONE AND TWO SIDES
- PLATED THROUGH HOLES
- MULTI-LAYER BOARDS
- FLUSH SWITCH CIRCUITS
- COMBINATIONS OF RIGID AND FLEXIBLE CIRCUITRY

Ansley produces prototypes or thousands, utilizing all standard base materials and copper thicknesses, by the direct photographic or screen process. Ansley's physical facilities are up-to-date and contain the latest equipment for plating, plated through holes, drilling, routing, punching, and machining of single or multi-layer boards. Mounting of components, dip soldering and encapsulation can also be handled.

FREE-FLEX® PRINTED CIRCUITRY

Ansley Free-Flex® Printed Circuitry rounds out the Ansley capability for producing either rigid or flexible circuitry. Teflon*, Epoxy, Mylar*, Kapton* and other base substrate materials can be used for either single or multiple layered circuitry. Ultimate reliability at minimum cost and the virtual elimination of human error in wiring are inherent advantages of Free-Flex Circuitry. The wiring of equipment or components can be an integral part of the design since a Free-Flex Printed Circuit can bend, fold, wrap around or be in between parts for circuitry interconnection. Free-Flex Printed Circuitry can also be combined with rigid circuitry. Free-Flex Circuitry is labelled by Underwriters' Laboratories Inc. under Appliance Wiring Materials Classification.

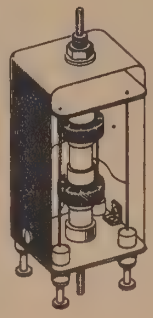
RF AND IF STOCK TRANSFORMER ASSEMBLIES

C-B MULTITRANS

Transformer kits which enable the engineer to design a prototype or small production run to desired gain and bandwidth. All have internal core frictioning. Individual coils on phenolic tubing slide on central coil form to adjust coupling. Cores vary the inductance. These assemblies are supplied less coils. Select appropriate coils from the listing.

When the required design has been achieved, send the specifications to Caddell-Burns for quotations on production runs.

In addition to the wide variety of stock units available, Caddell-Burns specializes in filling custom requirements promptly and economically. Call or submit specifications for quotations.



MULTITRAN COILS

These coils are wound with C-B NO-STRIP Coil Wire.

COILS & COIL FORMS

HIGH - Q MINIATURE FERRITE CHOKES, 10% Tol.

HIGH INDUCTANCE AND LOW D.C. RESISTANCE IN A MAGNETICALLY SHIELDED PACKAGE ESPECIALLY SUITED FOR LOW FREQUENCY FILTER APPLICATIONS AND TRANSISTORIZED CIRCUITS.

1. All inductance and Q measurements made on General Radio Type 1650-A Impedance Bridge at 1 KHz using 0.5 V rms input (measured with unknown terminals open). Corresponding voltages across test units are tabulated in column 4 at right.
2. Graphs at far right show average variation of inductance with D.C.
3. Current ratings are nominal, based on 5 MA per circular mil.
4. In addition to the stock items listed at right, units of any intermediate inductance can be supplied on special order. Data sheets are available upon request.

MODEM 4400 Data Sets

MODEM 4400/48

These synchronous data sets, developed by Milgo, deliver maximum throughput over typical unconditioned phone lines. Standard interface meets EIA RS232B and CCITT V.24. MIL-STD-188B and special interfaces are available. No software restrictions.

MODEM 4400 data sets offer advantages in:

- Dial-up applications (for normal operating mode or back-up).
- Multi-station polled networks and point to point operation.
- Circuits with normally unusable distortion characteristics.
- Installations where highly conditioned lines are difficult to obtain.
- Lines with characteristics that change frequently.
- Shared use of a single phone line (or other VF circuit) with voice conversation.

MODEM 4400 data sets operating at 2000 bps and 2400 bps offer the additional advantage of:

- Simultaneous use of a single phone line (or other VF circuit) with voice conversation or multiple low speed data channels.

Other ICC data communication products and services include:

Data Concentrators — Multiple data channels of the same or different speeds can be combined to eliminate extra equipment, computer channels and telephone lines by either frequency or time multiplexing.

Interface — Buffering to communications equipment is available for equipment such as computer to modem; paper tape or magnetic tape to modem; card reader to modem; and combinations of these utilized with time division multiplexing.

System Design — Our custom engineering services integrate a variety of communication and digital hardware, adapting your existing equipment to operate with new products.

Accessories — Companion equipment allows users of Modem 4400 data sets to take full advantage of the data sets' features. Other equipment available includes special purpose data modems and transmission test equipment.

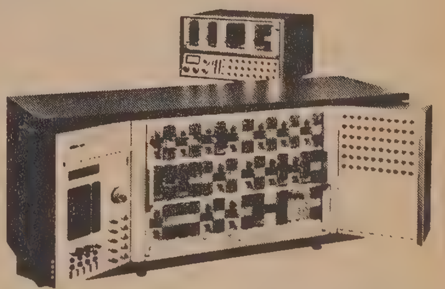
Analog Computers



Systron-Donner's solid-state desk-top computers offer maximum problem-solving capacity at minimum cost. Sizes range from 10 to 120 amplifiers—plus multipliers, function generators, and digital control logic. Patchboards are coded with the same symbols used in problem-solving circuit diagrams.

Three basic computers are: Model 3300 Educational Computer (approx. $2,700), SD-10/20 with 22 amplifier capacity ($7,000 to $15,000), and S-D-80 with 120-amplifier capacity ($25,000 to $70,000). Comprehensive 150-page handbook includes instructions for simulating many physical systems without writing the descriptive differential equations. Send for catalog

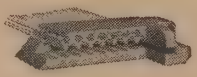
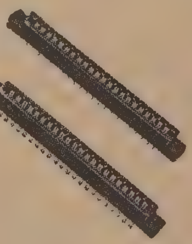
P.C. Edge Connectors with wire wrap terminations available with selective gold plating on contact areas to substantially reduce cost. Contacts combine thin resilient flexing member with straight, rigid square tail. .025″ on .125 centers and .045″ on standard .156″ centers. Both types can be developed for insulator bodies with 12-28 contact positions. Patent Pending*. CATALOGS PBM-92 & PBM-96.

Hermaphroditic Types*



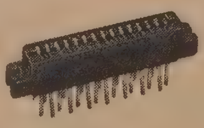
A broad line of .045″ square tail, standard wire wrap, crimp-on, snap-in, taper pin and solder termination devices (interchangeable with ELCO's products sold under ELCO's trademark "VARICON"). 17 to 41 contacts with largest overall length from approximately 2½ to 5½ inches. Manufactured under license agreement with Elco Corporation*. CATALOGS PBM-3, PBM-22 & PBM-47

Bifurcated Types*



These printed circuit board connectors are designed especially for severe environmental conditions. Bifurcation provides two wiping contact surfaces, assuring positive contact even when board irregularities exist. Meet applicable requirements of MIL-C-21097A. 6-25 double contact positions on .156″ centers. Largest overall dimension ranges from approximately 2 to 5 inches. Standard contact versions also available. Patent pending*. CATALOG CM-24

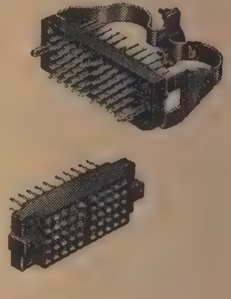
Low Cost Cantilever Type



Unique pre-loaded cantilever contact construction combines minimum insertion force with maximum contact pressure. Simple mechanical design, plus adaptability to selective gold plating and high volume assembly techniques provide high quality connector at low cost. Currently available in 15 position size. Other sizes on .156″ centers under development. CATALOG PBM-93.

RACK AND PANEL CONNECTORS

"Gold Button"*



A gold button is welded in place, covering only the actual contact area of the female receptacle. ULTRAMINIATURE CONNECTORS

*Preskam System

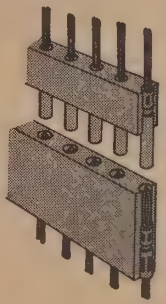
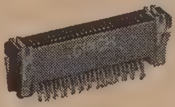
Uses an externally-actuated insulating member to provide board contact by external clamping. There are no insertion or withdrawal forces involved. The contact pressures are applied after the board has been inserted in the PRESKAM. PRESKAM provides many advantages: higher board densities, higher contact densities (currently up to 2,500 contacts per square inch), higher reliability, and greatly increased resistance to shock and vibration. Patent pending*. CATALOG PBM-71

"Bow-Pin"



For use with connectors having .075" and .100" centers, it utilizes a unique "Bowed Spring" principle. Two slightly bowed hemispherical spring wires are positioned with the flat portions of the cross section facing each other and fastened to the contact base. Front ends of the bowed wires are not attached, permitting flexing action. The wires straighten against each other when inserted into a tube having an ID smaller than the widest dimension of the bow. For strip, circular or rack and panel connectors. The 60 or 80-contact strips are approximately 6" long, only .1 inch thick and can be cut to length. CATALOG PBM-60

"Tykon"



For double-sided .062" printed circuit boards. Ribbon type, flexing action contacts, spaced on .050" centers assure maximum contact. Ideal for memory planes and plug-in modules. 6 to 25 double-contact positions. Largest overall length ranges from .85 to 1.8 inches. Patent pending*. CATALOG CM-24

CYLINDRICAL CONNECTORS

*MIL-C-81511—Astro/348

These subminiature connectors have .085" contact centers with dielectric separation of .021". A one-piece retention system eliminates metal construction. Features include scoop-proof mating, grounding prior to electrical contact, removable crimp contacts and exceptional environmental stability. Five shell sizes; 8, 10, 14, 16 and 18 for 4, 12, 37, 55, and 85 contacts respectively are available in five receptacle styles with standardized accessories. CINCH-NULINE CATALOG CN-5

NEW from NEY

STANDARD OFF-THE-SHELF ROTARY SWITCH ASSEMBLIES

The two rotary switch assemblies shown above are standard off-the-shelf items. The larger (#1510), a 36-position, 2-pole switch, is capable of 10 million revolutions with a noise level of only 1 millivolt. Rotating at 300 rpm, this assembly is capable of switching 0.5 amperes at 30 volts DC, non-inductive.

The smaller switch (#1508) is a 12-position, single-pole switch and is designed for the low-price commercial application. The performance of a #1510 switch can be obtained with the #1508 with some modification and at extra cost. Modifications can be made in either switch to suit particular requirements; or each, with slight changes, modified into slip ring assemblies.

Both of these switch assemblies offer the long proven, ideal combination of Neyoro® G Neyetch commutator rings (solid precious metal alloy bonded to a rigid insulator) and Paliney® 7 brushes. The Neyoro G Neyetch commutator means added product reliability and greatly reduces costly maintenance. It also eliminates such common plating defects as porosity, flaking, peeling, pits and inclusions. If your requirements include low level switches, standard or special, large or small, Ney's capabilities can help you. Detailed information available on request.

SLO-SYN®

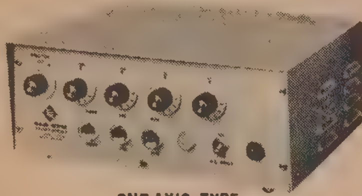
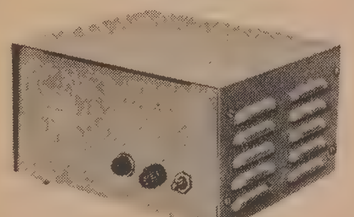
Preset Indexers



ONE-AXIS TYPE

Provide precise control of digital indexing in applications using SLO-SYN motors for positioning. Desired indexing movement up to 99,999 steps of 1.8° each can be preset on the control panel. Speed adjustable from 4 steps/second to maximum possible with motor used. Either manual or automatic recycling possible. Single- or two-axis types offered. Two-axis types are also available with backlash take-up circuit.

Translators, Adjustable Speed Drives & Translator Modules



TRANSLATOR

Pulse-to-step converters for use with bifilar SLO-SYN motors connected for incremental stepping. Used in programmed positioning, indexing and indicating operations. Translators use an external signal source; Adjustable Speed Drives have oscillator to provide signals; Translator Modules are plug-in printed circuit boards with logic capabilities for stepping SLO-SYN motors.

TEMPERATURE CONTROLLER

New Model ERO 9100

NEW ERC Temperature Controller with all solid state circuitry incorporating the latest electronic components, provides high reliability. Heat or CO_2 value is switched on and off by means of solid state Triacs. Zero cross-over switching of load eliminates any R.F.I. Meter indicates deviation from set point. On—off of heat or CO_2 is indicated by two neon lamps. Five standard ranges are available from −250°F to +600°F.

TEMPERATURE ANALYZER

Model ERO 900

ERC Temperature Analyzer is a precision adjustable oven which provides a controlled temperature environment for a variety of oven sizes. Crystals, integrated circuits and semi-conductors can easily be tested. Also available are special ovens for complete P.C. board and module testing. Control temperature range +25°C to +105°C. Operates on 115 volts, 60 cycle, with accuracy of 0.25°C. This unit is especially designed for use in quality control and engineering design departments.

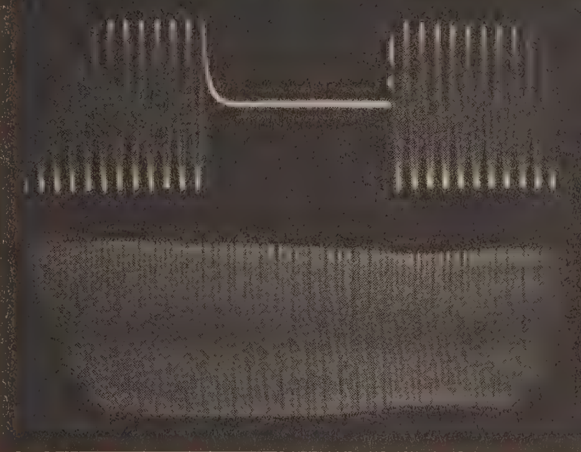
isolated power for computers and numerical controls



Upper trace—Input voltage 60 Hz. Lower trace—Output voltage 180 Hz. Note that with complete power failure for several cycles, energy is still being delivered to the load. Naturally, high frequency Noise or Transients or Voltage Changes are similarly filtered.

NOBRUSH® PERMANENT MAGNET GENERATORS

An exclusive design utilizing Permanent Magnet excitation gives NOBRUSH® Motor Generators their outstanding performance. Absolute electrical isolation between input and output circuits is assured. Motors will accept long-term voltage transients of ±10% with less than 1% change in output and short-term transients of ±30% with less than 1% output variation.

In addition to superior line isolation, NOBRUSH® units offer many design, performance and economic advantages over other methods of power generation and frequency conversion.

High Frequency Output—typically 400 cycle, 3 phase but can be 180 Hz to 840 Hz.

Power Range—150 VA to 25 KVA

Multiple Outputs—eliminates the need for transformers

Very Low Audible Noise and almost Vibration Free Performance

High Overload Capacity — Extremely Low RFI and EMI

Short Circuit Proof — Cool Operation

High Ripple Frequency—makes filter components substantially smaller in size and cost

Small Size—unit may be easily mounted in cabinet as an integral part of entire system

Simplicity of Design (one rotating part) and Rugged Construction assure Highest Reliability and Minimum Maintenance

Units Custom Fabricated to your exact specifications

We can SHRINK Time.

Not really. It just seems that way because our A/D Converters are so fast. They have aperture time as small as 0.2 nanosecond! And they convert at word rates from 1 MHz to 25 MHz. Word lengths vary from 4 bits to 9 bits. Sample-and-hold, test circuits, and power supplies are all built in; and all of this costs only $4,200 to $9,660, depending on which of 13 models you choose.

We argued about where this ad should be.

People couldn't agree where this ad should go. Some said it HAD to be in the D/A Converter section, because it's an ad for the HS-2000 Series D/A line. Others said it should go in the function generator section, or the modulator section, or the programmable attenuator section. And so it went.

Why all the discussion? Because our HS-2000 Series D/A Converters can convert from 4 bits at 25 HMz to 9 bits at 10 MHz and be 0.1% accurate in less than 90 nanoseconds. But they can also accommodate external bias and reference signals from dc to 25 MHz, making them useful for a lot of other things. Prices range from $1480 to $1760, for any of six models. With all that, people couldn't agree where the ad should be.

If you don't like where it is, tell the boss. He made the final decision.

INFORMATION ON LACING TAPES?

ASK GUDEBROD!

Your one best source for guidance on electronic wire harnessing is Gudebrod. We've been handling the electronics industry's every special requirement, as well as a good portion of the routine needs, since the very beginning. So, whether you are producing electronic equipment for military use, or for commercial and industrial applications you can get from Gudebrod the latest, most complete data on tape, on tying, to meet the most exacting specifications. Using the right tape is important where there are high temperatures, in cryogenic uses, in vacuums, in humid conditions, in outer space. Correct widths and tensile strengths are important, too. At Gudebrod, we are prepared to give you full, considered answers to your cable lacing questions.

We are able to manufacture more ferromagnetic pot cores than anybody else . . .

because . . .
1. No one can match the variety of materials at our disposal—many unique because we developed them ourselves. (Our F series 2001~4 demonstrate drastically improved temperature coefficient for this reason.)
2. We use the most modern technology in the world, both domestic and imported.
3. Our factories are second to none in scale and up-to-dateness.
4. Our 3,000 highly skilled employees, advanced research laboratory, and 30 years' experience back up every product.

If your telecommunications equipment calls for high-performance pot cores of guaranteed uniformity, send us your specs. We'll do the rest. Also, we'll be happy to send you detailed technical literature on request.

TAPE WOUND CORES

Tape Wound Cores made from high permeability nickel-iron alloys, grain oriented silicon-iron alloy and 50% cobalt iron alloy are available in all AIEE Standard Sizes plus special shapes. Orthonol®, Alloy 48, Square and Round Permalloy 80, Supermalloy, Magnesil® and Supermendur, meet the most critical applications for magnetic amplifiers, inverters, converters, reactors, regulators and other static magnetic devices.

For wide frequency applications, materials are produced in thicknesses from ½ mil through 14 mils. All core sizes are available boxed in phenolic or plastic, aluminum, or GVB coated aluminum boxes. Magnesil®, less sensitive to external stresses, is also available unboxed or epoxy encapsulated. AIEE Standards and other common sizes are stocked for immediate shipment. For more information, write Dept. EBG.

BOBBIN CORES

Bobbin Cores manufactured from ultra-thin (.000125″ to .001″ thicknesses) Permalloy 80 and Orthonol® are available in widths from .023″ to .250″ (wider on request). Wound on non-magnetic stainless steel bobbins, these cores meet requirements for military and commercial computers, high frequency counters, timers, oscillators, inverters and magnetic amplifiers.

Core diameters range down to less than .050″ with flux capacities down to several maxwells. Special, highly sensitive pulse test equipment is used to reproduce almost any test program, and to accurately measure flux values ("ones" and "zeros") down to the millivolt—microsecond regions. For more information, write Dept. EBG.

MOLY-PERMALLOY POWDER CORES

Moly-Permalloy toroidal cores with permeabilities of 60, 125, 160, 200, the new 300, and 550 all have guaranteed inductance limits of ±8%. Furnished to guaranteed loss and temperature/inductance characteristics, most are stocked for immediate shipment. Cores are finished with a high dielectric strength epoxy not affected by normal potting compounds and waxes used in the production of chokes and filters. A complete range of 16 standard sizes is available with ID's from 1.40″ down to miniatures small as .110″ (OD's from 2.25″ down to .250″).

All sizes are available with stabilized induction characteristics from −65°C to +125°C. This extends the availability of stabilized cores down to the sub-miniature sizes. These cores meet the requirements of today's miniaturized high Q—low loss filter and inductor circuits where extreme frequency stabilization is required over wide temperature ranges. For more information, write Dept. EBG.

FERRITES

High purity Manganese Zinc Ferrite Pot Cores are made with permeabilities of 750, 1400 and 2000 to cover frequencies up to two megacycles. A 100 permeability nickel-zinc core is available for use up to 20 mc. Fourteen sizes, including the international sizes, ranging from 36 x 22 mm down to 7 x 4 mm, are available for use in filters and inductors for high frequency carrier and other telecommunication circuit design.

These pot cores exhibit extremely good loss characteristics, linear temperature co-efficients (matching those of polystyrene capacitors) guaranteed over a temperature range of −30°C to +70°C, and exceptionally low disaccommodation factors.

Cores are available ungapped with a guaranteed inductance factor of ±25% for transformer applications and gapped to standard A_L factors to tolerances of ±3%, for use in high quality filter applications.

The line features unique one-piece spring steel mounting hardware for firm mounting on chassis or printed circuit boards, plus complete selection of tuning assemblies. Various shapes such as Toroid, E, I and U type cores also available. For more information, write Dept. EBG.

MAGNETIC LAMINATIONS

Hydrogen annealed Laminations are available in Permalloy 80, Alloy 48 and Orthonol®, in thickness of .004″, .006″, and .014″. Thirty-eight standard shapes in sizes ranging from DU-87 and EI-12 down to EI-093, EE-30-31, DU-63 and F-094, are manufactured for both stock and special orders.

Used in quality transformers, chokes, reactors, and especially for solid state transistor circuits, these laminations are manufactured to guaranteed minimum permeability limits. Special shapes can be made to fit specific needs including rotor-stator and recording head laminations. Small intricate shapes can be produced by the photo-etching process. For more information, write Dept. EBG.

PHOTOFAB® PARTS

Precision flat components produced by Magnetics Inc. from almost any magnetic or specialty alloy used in the electronics industry, can save both cost and time. Small shapes can be chemically milled in prototype quantities at much lower costs and tooled for punching during production.

The process is especially effective when intricate configurations are needed in thicknesses less than .001″. Material thicknesses ranging from .020″ to .000125″ can be processed. Tolerances on dimensions can be held from .005″ to .0005″, depending on thickness of the part being produced and type of material.

Rotors and stators, head laminations and flat packs for integrated circuits are only a few of the parts which can be made. Any part that can be drawn can be produced as a Photofab® part. For more information, write Dept. EBG.

SPECIALTY ALLOYS

Specialty metals and alloys for use in the electronic industry are produced by the Metals Division. Rod, Wire and thin gage Strip products are manufactured from powder metallurgy ingots. This process is extremely effective where close (plus or minus 0.01%) chemistry control is required. In addition, homogeneity, low impurities (less than 0.005%) and uniform physical properties are the result of the process.

A wide range of standard compositions including Ni, Ni-Fe, Ni-Fe-Mo, Ni-Co-Fe, Ni-Cr, Ni-Cr-Fe, etc., as well as custom blended alloys are available.

Areas of application include glass sealing, vapor deposition and specialty plating anodes, etc.

Conventionally melted alloys are available by conversion reroll to thin gage strip (0.0005″-0.005″). For more information, write Dept. EBG.

SPECIAL COMPONENTS

In addition to the standard high quality component lines, Magnetics Inc. designs and manufactures specialized components—fabricated from any magnetic alloy—in any size or shape.

Expertly staffed and equipped laboratories, pilot plant facilities, and production equipment are available for the processing of components in powdered, sintered, strip, wire, rod and forms.

Since Magnetics Inc. makes its own magnetic alloys, complete control is guaranteed, from basic materials to finished product. This assures optimum characteristics in every component, from a single manufacturing source.

Unusual configurations requiring tape as thin as ⅛ mil, flat pieces produced as Photofab® parts or punched from most magnetic and specialty alloys used in the electronics industry. For more information, write Dept. EBG.

Electronic counters

Systron-Donner offers a comprehensive line of electronic counters, ranging from simple 12.4 MHz frequency meters (at $395) to fully-automatic microwave counters with range to 40 GHz and time base stability as high as 5 parts in 10^{10} per 24 hours. Many counters possess unique measuring capabilities, not available elsewhere in standard off-the-shelf hardware. All recent designs use modern integrated circuits to enhance reliability and reduce cost.

The HICKOK DMS 3200 Digital Measuring System is a precision electronic measuring device which displays readings in digital form instead of the relatively inaccurate and difficult-to-read moving-pointer meter display. A companion PR 4900 Digital Printer allows the displayed readings of the DMS 3200 System to be printed in permanent form for storage and future reference.

Because the DMS 3200 System consists of a main frame which will accept a number of "plug-in" units, it can be used to measure a variety of electrical parameters. The main frame provides display of the reading; the plug-in determines the application.

JK PRODUCTS ®

FREQUENCY MANAGEMENT SPECIALISTS

CTS Knights, Inc., Sandwich, Illinois
Subsidiary of CTS Corporation, Elkhart, Indiana

CTS ®

the most complete line of crystals, crystal filters, packaged transistor crystal oscillators, crystal and component ovens, and crystal-oven combinations.

JK offers a complete line of crystals with frequencies ranging from 1000 cycles to 200 MC. Precision crystals, providing changes as little as 1×10^{-10}, are regularly manufactured for use in frequency standards and similar ultra-stable devices. Low frequency crystals are available in evacuated glass envelopes, conventional metal holders and the new KOLDWELD metal enclosures. High frequency crystals, in both metal and glass holders, are manufactured at high volume rates for Government and commercial users. Military standard crystals offer the assurance of maximum quality by adherence to MIL SPECS and close supervision by a resident Government Inspector.

JK crystal filters are compact, rugged, hermetically sealed and stable. Frequency ranges from 1 kc to 40 MC are available to 150 MC.

Packaged transistor oscillators are offered in a wide line of precision, plug-in, crystal controlled signal sources from 10 cps to 75 MC. These oscillators are available with sine or square wave outputs. Stabilities range from 1×10^{-6} to 1×10^{-9} and better per day. Designs can be made to specifications for laboratory, vehicular and full military environmental performance. Each oscillator is aged in and its performance certified before being shipped.

Crystal and component ovens are compact, high temperature stability types carefully made to accommodate crystals and other precision devices. Single crystal, dual crystal and multiple crystal types are available. Many sizes and types are available including snap-action thermostats and proportionately controlled ovens giving the ultimate in quiet, precise operation with stabilities to ±.0025°C.

JK crystal-oven combinations, "THERMYSTALS," cover a wide range of packages for use where close temperature control of crystals is required. Frequency ranges for these crystal-oven combinations are 1 kc to 200 MC. Proportional control and snap-action thermostat control ovens are available in combination with precision, glass-enclosed, and metal-cased crystals with frequency stabilities from .0001% to .0000001%.

S-I DATA ACQUISITION SYSTEMS—A modular building-block concept for data logging. The basic system handles 200, three wire inputs; measures DC from 1 μV to 750 VDC, AC from 10 μV to 500 V, Resistance from 0.1 milliohms to 120 Megohms, and Ratio. Inputs are switched by a fully-programmable crossbar scanner to a five digit DVM with sixth digit 20% over-range.

Output options include magnetic tape, punched paper tape, Flexowriter, punched cards, printer and teletypewriter. Other options include a digital clock, function programmer, reed relay input switches, digital comparator, and expansion up to 1000 three wire input channels.

S-2 PORTABLE DATA ACQUISITION SYSTEMS—The S-2 System offers a computer compatible incremental magnetic tape output and 25 input channels, all in a 10½″ high package. The modular design consists of a 25-channel programmable scanner, a four digit integrating DVM with a fifth digit 20% over-range, a parallel-to-serial converter, and an incremental magnetic tape recorder.

The system is completely programmable to accept a mixture of DC voltage, AC voltage and Resistance. A skipping of unused channels feature is standard in the S-2 System.

NLS maintains a staff of expert design and application engineers to assist you with special requirements.

Coaxial delay lines

Usually the most critical cable components of an interconnection system. Though VSWR, attenuation, or pulse distortion are important, the electrical length or time delay is the most significant factor. Times gives the most serious consideration to the error tolerances assigned to the delay lines, as tight tolerances can significantly affect costs. We are in an excellent position to guarantee precision quality because we use coaxial cable and connectors that we ourselves manufacture in the construction of these delay lines.

LUMPED CONSTANT DELAY LINES

CUSTOM-BUILT

Allen Avionics, Inc. manufactures a wide variety of delay lines to customers' specifications. The following specifications encompass areas in which we normally work. If, however, your requirements fall outside of the following parameters, we would still be interested in hearing from you.

RANGE — Delay times from 3 nanoseconds through audio ranges are available.

TIME DELAY/RISE TIME RATIO — Time delay to rise time ratio to 300/1.

CONSTRUCTION — Units are hermetically sealed in metal cans with glass to metal terminals. Epoxy encapsulated units are also available.

SIZE — Sizes are available from ⅝ x ⅝ x .450 inches.

TOLERANCE — Normal tolerance on time delay is 5%. In most cases tolerances of 1% can be held.

TEMPERATURE — Most of our lines are manufactured to 50 parts/million/degree C from minus 55 degree C to 105 degree C.

DELIVERY — Prototypes of special lines can often be delivered in a week or two.

Our engineering staff is always available to help with any delay line and application problems.

LUMPED CONSTANT DECADE DELAY LINES TYPE "D"

Type "D" Variable Decade Delay Units are engineered to provide variable time delays with absolute stability for accurate triggering and excellent reproduction of the input pulse. These lumped constant delay lines are completely passive. All models have a minimum of 1000 to 1 resolution and consist of three or more decade switches. Any delay output of Type "D" decade delay unit is the summation of individual lines. It is not the result of a tapped line. This feature is an important factor in eliminating undesirable reflections in the output pulse. Accuracy at any delay exceeding 1% of the unit's total delay is within 3%. These units have a characteristic impedance of 500 ohms in and out. While the units listed are standard, other delays and impedances can be manufactured to specifications.

* Since the Quick Line is a tapped module consisting of 10 sections, the tap increment of any module can be determined by dividing the module time delay by 10. Modules of the same impedance can be put together in groups of 1, 2, 3 and 4 to achieve different time delay and rise time combinations.

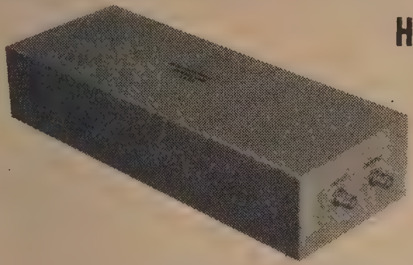
LUMPED CONSTANT DELAY LINES



HIGHEST $\frac{\text{TIME DELAY}}{\text{RISE TIME}}$ RATIO EVER BUILT!

These Delay Lines have the highest ratio of time delay to rise time that has ever been built in a Lumped Constant Line. Unlike other types of high ratio lines, the Lumped Constant Delay Line has a passband from D.C. to its cutoff frequency and maintains a constant delay over these frequencies. These lines are also unique in that they offer relatively low insertion loss.

This group of lines is characterized by tight time delay tolerances, low pulse distortion, excellent phase linearity and good temperature stability.

For laboratory use, any time delays from 10 microseconds to 100 microseconds can be built into variable decade instruments with ratios of over 100/1. These units could have a resolution of up to 1/5000 of the total delay.

Series "HF" HIGH FREQUENCY

The HF Series in most cases will serve as more than adequate electrical replacement for coaxial cable. The inconvenience of handling and storing cable will thus be eliminated. Standard impedances of 50 and 75 ohms are available. Units are normally supplied with BNC connectors. Tapped lines and time delays other than those shown below can be supplied.

Series "VHR"

The "VHR" Series have a characteristic impedance of 50 ohms. While the units listed are standards, we can manufacture the "VHR" Lines to your exact delay specifications.

These units are hermetically sealed in a metal can 3½ x 6½ x 16 inches, with four ¼ x 20 studs on the 6½ x 16 inch surface.

Two BNC connectors are located on the 3½ x 6½ inch surface for input and output connections. Variable Decade Delay Units can be manufactured for laboratory use from the "VHR" Lines.

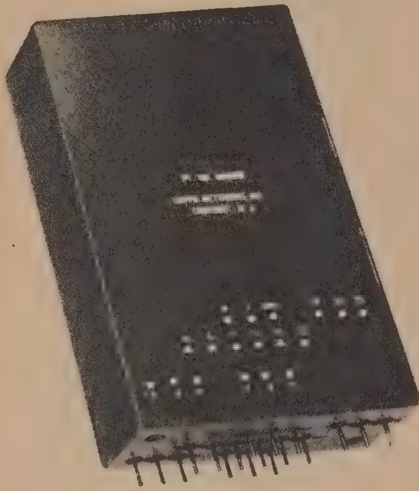
When you want high efficiency delay lines specify Kappa Super-η*



*SUPER-η LINES embody a new design principle providing the highest efficiency yet obtainable in lumped constant delay lines. Use of network synthesis techniques rather than conventional m-derived methods results in sharply improved delay line efficiency. Compared to ordinary lines of any given delay, KAPPA SUPER-η lines provide linear performance over a much greater band width. In addition these newly developed lines offer such outstanding advantages as: greater inherent reliability, smaller package size, and appreciable cost reduction.

SUPER-η LINES FOR VIDEO SYSTEMS

Impedance:	75 ohms (unless otherwise specified)
Amplitude Response:	better than 0.1 db. flatness to 10 MHZ or higher
Ripple:	within ± .05 db to 10 MHZ or higher
Group Delay:	linear within ± 1% or ± 1 nsec, whichever is greater.
Group Delay Ripple:	within ± 2½% to 14 MHZ
K factor:	better than .25% for T or 2T $\sin^2$ pulse for both American and European systems
Cross talk:	less than 46 db.

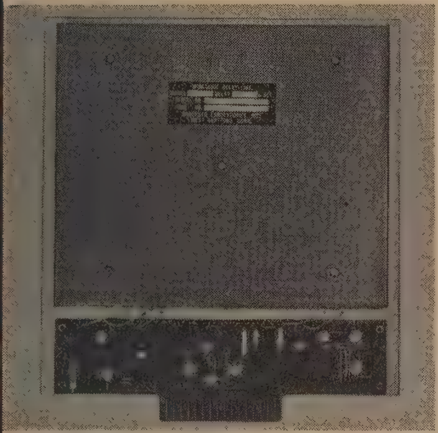
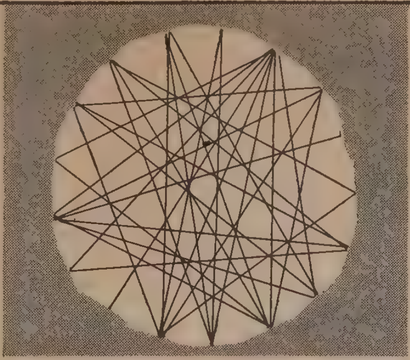
DELAY LINES

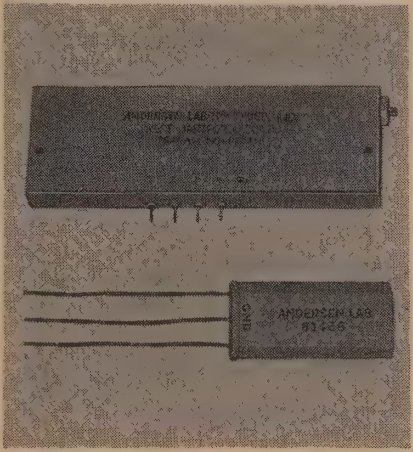
Here is a single in-depth source for delay lines designed for the storage or processing of electrical signals. Innovators in delay line technology since 1949, Andersen Labs offers a wide selection of operating characteristics and capabilities in wiresonic, solid ultrasonic, electromagnetic, dispersive metallic and quartz lines, all designed to-specification.



WIRESONIC DELAY LINES are suggested for use with binary signals and operate at data rates between 0.5 and 2.0 megabits per second, providing dynamic serial storage of as many as 20,000 bits. Utilizing magnetostrictive and ceramic transducers, wiresonic delay lines feature low cost per bit of storage, low power dissipation, high reliability, stability over wide temperature range, low volume and weight.



SOLID ULTRASONIC DELAY LINES most often find application in delay of analog signals in the 10 to 100 Mc frequency range for periods up to 5,000 microseconds. Utilizing quartz or glass as the delay medium, electronic signals are stored with a minimum of loss and distortion. Overall size of the quartz element plus number and type of surface angles determine the amount of delay which can be precisely controlled to meet required parameters.



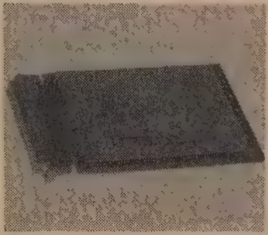
ELECTROMAGNETIC DELAY LINES utilizing lumped constant-inductance and capacitance are employed for the delay of audio and video signals for periods up to 20 milliseconds for a delay-to-rise time ratio up to 140 to 1 and bandwidths up to 10 Mc. Component density is up to 70 delay sections per cubic inch, delay density to 500 μ sec per cubic inch. Impedance can range from 10 to 10,000 ohms and low attenuation is assured. Electromagnetic delay lines withstand ambient temperatures to 220°, with thermal stability as low as 10 ppm/°C.

METALLIC STRIP DISPERSIVE DELAY LINES provide a linear function of delay versus frequency. Aluminum or steel is the delay medium to capitalize on the existence of a dispersive mode of vibration of elastic waves in a narrow metallic strip.

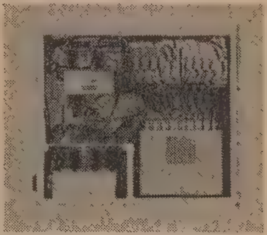
SIGNAL PROCESSING EQUIPMENT

Andersen Labs subsystem and system capability has been extended into the design and manufacture of extensive varieties of electronic devices and electromechanical devices for application in the areas of radar, sonar, telemetry, simulation, navigation and analysis. Recent accomplishments include advanced Deltics pulse compression systems and coherent integrators.

Revolutionary Delecon Pulse Compressor is used in conjunction with long range radar systems to measurably increase potential detection of very small objects at great distances.



High Data Rate Serial Memory. Series 5000 represents a new concept in this highly sophisticated type of device. Maximum bit rate is 10 Mc/s RZ or NRZ with total capacity up to 20,000 bits.



Target Range Simulator allows simulation of the motion of targets at speeds to 5000 mph at ranges to 80 nautical miles. Both conventional and pulsed Doppler radar techniques can be used.
